Meeting of the State Board of Trade at Ellsworth.

Cordial Hospitality of the Ellsworth Board and the Citizens.

Discussion of Important Topics—Luncheon and Outing at Pond.

[Special to Whig and Courier.]

Ellsworth, Me., Sept. 16. The semi-annual meeting of the State Board of Trade was held here today and was a grand success in every way. There were forty-nine delegates present, representing thirteen local bodies.

President Henry Lord, of Bangor; Secretary M. N. Rich of Portland, and Treasurer G. N. Weymouth, of Biddeford, were re-elected. The presidents of the affiliated boards were elected vice presidents of the State Board.

Some important subjects were on the programme for discussion and some able and interesting remarks were made on the different topics by enterprising and progressive men.

The discussion of the question "What other one thing contributes so much to the material interests of the state of Maine as the tourist travel?" was opened by Francis Wiggin, Esq., of Houlton, who took the ground that no other thing contributed so much.

"What has the country done and what should it do for the city?" was the topic opened by Hon. Charles F. Libby, of Portland.

Col. F. E. Boothby, of the Maine Central railroad, president of the Portland Board of Trade, introduced a resolution favoring the establishment of a lightship in Portland harbor. The resolution was adopted.

In the afternoon the State and local Board of Trade and a number of invited guests were elegantly entertained at luncheon by Senator and Mrs. Hale, at their beautiful new home, rebuilt within the year on the site of that destroyed by fire in May, 1896. Mrs. Hale was most agreeably assisted in receiving the guests by Mrs. Judge Wiswell, Mrs. Henry M. Hall, Mrs. F. F. Mueling, and Mrs. Henry W. Cushman, and by her sons Chandler, Frederick and Eugene.

After luncheon the party were grouped and photographed on the lawn, with the picturesque mansion as a background. The occasion was one of memorable hospitality and enjoyment. From the Senator's home the party were conveyed to the Nicolin club house at Branch pond, where the rest of the day was passed in a most enjoyable manner, concluding with a fine supper served at the house.

Most of the delegates and visitors from the west left on their return home on the late train and all were enthusiastic over the success of the meeting and the hospitality of the citizens of Ellsworth. Before separating the following resolutions reported by Col. I. K. Stetson, of Bangor, for the State Board of Trade were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the State Board of Trade extend its sincere thanks to the Ellsworth Board of Trade for their most cordial and bounteous hospitality extended to us, at this our eighth annual meeting of the State Board.

To the good people of Ellsworth, we offer our most heartfelt thanks for this most spontaneous uprising of the people in behalf of the furtherance of the interests of our good State of Maine, whose interests are most closely allied with those of our Board.

To the Abenaquis Club, who so kindly assisted in our material wants, we are under the deepest obligations. To Senator Hale and his estimable wife we extend the most kindly wishes of the Board for their continued health and happiness, also for the very charming manner in which we were entertained at the luncheon served at their elegant home. To the Nicolin Club we shall be under the most lasting obligations for one of the most enjoyable occasions in which we have ever participated. May they continue to prosper in their good work is the sincere wish of all. To the railroads and other transportation companies the State Board of Trade extends the most sincere thanks for the reduction of fare so kindly furnished.

Respectfully submitted,

I. K. Stetson,
A. B. Nealley,
I. S. Lock,
Committee.

The Stock Market.

New York, Sept. 16. The market closed this afternoon with a general level of prices lower after a day of great irregularity and constant movement up and down the whole list over a narrow range. Quite a large number of shares showed small fractional gains and a few stocks showed notable rises, but the Grangers, Vanderbilts, truck lines and transcontinental lines as a whole declined in value during the day. Prices were in fact higher at the opening, but liquidation quickly set in and prices generally receded. The closing out of accounts of a failed firm under the rules of the stock exchange had something to do with the undertone of heaviness which was manifest all day.

The market weakening of the exchange in the last half hour of trading served to steady prices of some stocks to some extent, the decline not only being checked, but recoveries being shown in the closing transactions in a few stocks. The posted rates for both long and short accounts were reduced ½ to 4S4 and 4S5¾ respectively. The heaviness of today's market was mitigated from time to time by the strength manifested by special stocks. The Northern Pacific issues were at one time in special demand and showed marked advances as was also true of the Consolidated Gas, Pittsburg, C. C. & S. Louis, Chgo. Gt. Western and the Minn. & St. L. stocks.

All of these reacted from the best but most of them remained at an advance over last night's close. Pittsburg, C. C. & St. Louis common and preferred showed gains of 1½ and 2 points respectively. In the minor list St. Louis stocks all three are left with net advances of two points or over. Consolidated Gas also gained 2 points net after having been two points higher. Other marked gains were ice pfd 4¾, Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburg 3½, Chicago Gt. Western pfd a 3, do b, 3, Evansville 2¾, and Erie 1 per pfd, Bay State Gas, Ill. Steel, Linseed Oil, Quincy pfd, a point or over.

The declines extended beyond a fraction in the case of Sugar, Canadian Pacific, Illinois Central, L. Kansas City, Pittsburg & Gulf, Louisville, St. Joe & Grand Island and pfd, Southern Railway pfd, Wheeling & Lake Erie 1¾ and Kansas & Texas pfd.

Transactions of the bond market were on a considerably diminished scale and were somewhat irregular. The net sales were at a par value of about $9,000,000.

The bid price of United States new 4s was lower, new fours coupon sold at 123¾ and do regular 120¾.

War of Biscuit Companies.

Chicago, Sept. 16. Well defined rumors were current on LaSalle street today to the effect that an end had been reached in the war of the biscuit companies and a plan of consolidation, embracing the New York Biscuit Co., the American Biscuit Co. and the United States Biscuit Co. agreed upon. These companies have a combined capital of $30,000,000 and practically control the biscuit output of the United States.

The Purpose of Attack on President Diaz of Mexico.

Man Armed With Long Pontiard Attempted to Stab.

President Was Entering Park on Foot During Celebration.

City in a Fever of Excitement Over The Bold Attack.

Would-be Assassin Seized---The President Unharmed.

New York, Sept. 16. A special to the Evening Post from Mexico City says:

During the civic parade today in the city of Mexico while President Diaz was walking with public functionaries from the palace to Alameda, upon arriving at the latter place, he was attacked by a drunken man with a cane, with which he struck the President.

The man was immediately arrested and was found to have no other weapons.

President Diaz is perfectly tranquil, as is all the city.

Another Dispatch.

City of Mexico, Sept. 16. An attack was made shortly after 10 a. m. today on President Diaz as he was proceeding from the palace to the Alameda to distribute medals to the survivors of the war.

The city is in a fever of excitement and the stories generally are conflicting.

The most reliable version of the affair is that as the President was entering on foot the Alameda, or Central Park of the city, a middle aged man, armed with a long pontiard jumped forward from the crowd and made an attempt to stab the President. He was at once seized by the President's suite and the police and heavily handcuffed. Then, by side streets to avoid publicity, he was taken under a strong guard to the fourth ward police station. The authorities have so far refused to make a statement.

The President was walking, as is his custom on Independence day, and was between Minister Mena of Communications, and Gen. Berriozabal, minister of war. Gen. Mena grappled with the would-be assassin, who was at once disarmed and handed over to the police. The excitement among the foreign colonies is intense. As this dispatch is being sent, 15,000 troops are marching, but the President, who is surrounded by his cabinet is unmoved by the attempt and the people are hurrahing for Mexico and Gen. Diaz.

The President escaped entirely unhurt.

Today is the national holiday of the country, being the anniversary of the declaration of independence and the streets are thronged with people.

The attack on the President was made just before the great military parade started. The assailant is a middle aged man with long, dark hair and a prominent nose. He looks something like an Italian. The attack may be the result of the recent propaganda here against all forms of anarchists. Another version is that the man was simply presenting a petition. This is not believed. The ceremonies of the morning were not interfered with and the parade started on time and was reviewed by the President as planned at the national palace.

The prisoner gave the name of Arroyo. President Diaz took the matter very calmly and advised that the man be kept in custody until tomorrow and brought before him to explain his motives. Apparently believing that the man had no murderous intent, but the police feel his case demands the deepest investigation and they counsel his being turned over to the military tribunal as he half assaulted their commander-in-chief while in uniform.

It is reported tonight that Anulfo will be tried by court martial, and also that he will be handed over to the civil authorities.

Behring Sea Arguments.

Halifax, N. S., Sept. 16. Mr. Warren continued his able address today before the Behring Sea commission. He opened the case of the Winnifred seized by the Rush and afterwards handed over to the Captain Parr, of the Royal navy, and was re-seized by the United States authorities in United States waters for violation of the revenue laws of the United States. The very fact of the tender of the vessel to Capt. Parr by the captain of the Rush settled any responsibility on the part of the United States.

The case of the Wanderer, a new claim admitted for consideration by the terms of the convention, was then considered. The owner of the vessel claims that the action of the United States intimidated the Indians on board of his ship and that they would not proceed to the Behring Sea. The speaker showed that the claim was ridiculous and held that the United States could not be held responsible for anything that might have been told the Indians by outside parties. Certain it was that no officer of the United States had interfered with the vessel or her crew.

He showed that the Wanderer stopped at Cape Scott, 1,000 miles from the Behring Sea and returned to Victoria, accepted a charter, which he claimed was made before the vessel ever sailed for the sealing grounds. He urged that the vessel turned back on May 12th, 1889, whereas the first instructions relative to the seizure of vessels were not issued until May 23d, 1889.

Mr. Warren then took up the effect of domicile on the Cooper claims, Grace, Dalpin, Amie, Beck and Sayward, Alexander, Frank claims, Alfred, Adams, Black Diamond, 1889, and Lilly, Daniel McLean claim.

The ownership of these vessels whole or partial is urged by the United States to have been in the hands of these men.

Last of the "Cooper."

Yassalboro, Me., Sept. 16. George Phillips, a prominent figure of North Yassalboro and well known man of New England, died of his son's residence this morning of heart disease at the age of 83. Mr. Phillips was "the cooper" and, in his death, the last one engaged in this industry about here passes away. The funeral will be held Saturday morning at 11 o'clock.

Portland, Me., Sept. 16. Rigby was again favored with splendid weather conditions today while the track was in prime shape. As a result a number of horses have new marks to their credit. There was a very noticeable increase in the attendance and the interest being worked up by this preliminary meeting argues well for the great transylvania trots to follow next week. The summaries:

STRIKE'S END.

Taken Up by the American Federation of Labor.

Mob Led by Women Made a Raid on Collieries Thursday.

Men at Work Attacked with Clubs and Stones by the Gang.

The Women as Bad as the Men---Troops Sent to the Scene.

Hazleton, Pa., Sept. 16. The American Federation of Labor, with a membership of half a million, has taken up the cause of the mine workers in this region. Their organizers are already at work here, and when this has been completed a uniform scale will be formulated and presented to the operators.

A body of about 150 men and boys, led by a score of women, made a raid on the Carson, Star and Monarch collieries at Honeybrook, near Audenried, today.

The women as well as their followers were armed with clubs and stones, and before the 300 workers could be induced to come out the missiles were used. Some of the women stationed themselves on the top of a culm bank and pelted the workingmen with stones.

One Hungarian was clubbed over the head and badly injured, but no further harm was inflicted.

The encounter was the direct result of an attempt to start up the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre collieries. Despite the determination to remain out until Sept. Lawall was heard from regarding the ten per cent. advance demanded, a number of Huns and Italians reported for work this morning.

As soon as this news reached Banker Hill and Honeybrook the attack was made, each colliery being visited in turn. The superintendent called for assistance on Sheriff Scott and he made a demand on Gen. Gobin for soldiers.

A battalion hurriedly marched to the scene but it was over and the mob scattered when the soldiers reached there.

The soldiers had not been out of sight ten minutes before a crowd of strikers pounced upon a squad of Huns who were screening coal near the Star washery and forced them to quit work.

This "second" movement resulted in sending a squadron of the governor's troops to the disturbed district. They returned with the report that all was quiet.

FEARED BOTH ARE LOST.

Hat Worn by John Ross Found—He and McDevitt Missing.

Rockland, Me., Sept. 16. This morning a hat was found on the shore near Ensier's Cove, which was immediately recognized by Mrs. John Ross as the one worn by her husband when he last left this city.

John Ross and James McDevitt started out for a sail Wednesday, Sept. 8, and nothing has been heard of them since, but it is now feared that both men were drowned and the boat sunk.

Their departure from this city at first caused but little anxiety, as they were in the habit of going out sailing. Several boats have today been dragging about the bay in search of the bodies.

A quarterly dividend of 1¼ per cent. was declared payable Oct. 1st. FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 17, 1897.

Unkindest Cut of All.

Mr. E. B. Winslow, who for a brief period stood as the Democratic candidate for Governor, in this State, last year, will give the Portland Argus nervous prostration if he does not cease disliking about returned business prosperity. The Argus came very near getting stranded politically in the last campaign. It was very enthusiastically in favor of Mr. Winslow and in excited tones informed the party that it would commit suicide if it endorsed the free silver heresy, and then itself swallowed the Chicago platform at one mouthful and proceeded to shout for silver just as though it enjoyed the idea of suicide.

The experience was a decidedly humiliating one, but now that it is passed and the prediction of the Argus has proved true, our Portland contemporary has been trying to line its party up on the tariff. The vote in Congress was not soothing to its feelings and since the bill passed the Argus has been extremely sceptical on the subject of prosperity. Mr. Winslow, however, is quoted as saying that it is here, and he has built two new and very large kilns at his factory to meet the demands of increased business this fall. As the Argus and other Democratic papers assured the people of the State that Mr. Winslow was one of its leading business men, it is only fair to assume that he is able to recognize the return of good times when they come his way. But his testimony will contribute to the political unhappiness of the Argus people.

The Dingley Revenues.

The Boston Journal says: The revenue under the new tariff has ceased to afford any satisfaction to the enemies of honest money or protection.

Attention is called to the fact that already with the tariff less than two months old the national receipts under it are steadily increasing. This is true both of the revenue from internal taxes and the revenue from customs. In the first eleven business days of September the customs receipts were $8,837,085 against $8,330,005 in the first eleven days of August. This is a gain of about 4 per cent.—a small gain, perhaps, but still significant when it is remembered that a gain of but 7 per cent. distributed throughout the year would efface the deficit and give an actual surplus to the Government.

Internal revenue receipts have increased $440,000, or 8 per cent. over the August record. This, of course, is a direct indication of domestic prosperity. The immense anticipatory importations are gradually being worked off into the channels of trade. As they disappear new imports come in. From now on the new tariff in its fiscal aspects is certain to make a better and better showing. By the end of a year it ought to be very nearly in its normal operation.

Then we shall very likely see a return of the conditions witnessed under the McKinley tariff. Imports during the first years of that tariff were fairly large, and the revenue was ample—even redundant. The country was so prosperous that it was able to absorb practically all of its own manufactures and also to order liberally from Europe. But as our own factories were well employed they were not harassed by the severity of the foreign competition which crushed so many of them into idleness in the "hard times" of Gorman-Wilsonism.

So now, with the rising prosperity of the country, imports of many articles will increase in volume, without serious injury to native industry and to the benefit of the national Treasury which "tariff reform" came so near to emptying. American protection is not prohibitive protection. Some of those foolish foreigners who are now rolling at the Dingley law will soon be doing as good a business with us as they ever did, albeit they will be paying a proper license for the privilege and American manufacturers will have first chance in the great American market.

Delusions of the Mob.

(Philadelphia Press).

The summary suppression of riot and rebellion such as occurred in Luzerne County last Friday always reveals the ignorance both of the public and the mob of the profound difference between resistance to law by an individual or by an organized body of men.

If a single man resists an officer of the law he is guilty of a crime for which he can be punished as for any other crime, but he has taken no step which separates his act from the crimes and misdemeanors familiar to the courts. But when a number of organized men resist an officer of the law they have not done each what one man does when he resists the law. They are not, as both the mob and the public are too apt to imagine, simply a number of men each engaged in resisting the law. Their organized act changes not the degree but the kind of crime of which they are guilty. What was mere resistance of the law in the individual is rebellion and riot, as Chief Justice Fox pointed out in his charge five years ago in the case of an organized body.

For the suppression of such riot, rebellion and treason, the law has summary means and vests in the hands of its officers summary power. The first necessity is to crush the resistance of those who defy the law, and the use of means is judged not by what is afterward known but by what then appears necessary. If an organized body has been for two weeks marching from place to place, trespassing on private property, imposing its will as superior to the rights of the citizen, assaulting peace officers and attacking the officers of the law, the first duty of the sheriff, now and always, is to suppress this body at all hazards. The misguided men who have joined in rebellion have taken their lives in their hands, and if they lose them they have brought their fate on their own heads.

Nor is their situation altered if they are on the "highway." There is a curious impression about that a "highway" confers a legal immunity on acts elsewhere liable to punishment. A highway is simply a piece of private property which has been devoted to public uses, but these uses must be lawful. A body of men which had been guilty of one assault on men trying to earn a living and which was on its way to perpetrate another gains no immunity because it is on a highway. Wherever such an organized body of men resisting the law is met by an officer of the law it is his duty to disperse it and to use force sufficient to make this dispersion complete, so that this body of men, at least, will never again defy the Government against which they have rebelled.

ALL "MANCHING" LAWLESS.

(New York Press.)

Every newspaper now engaged in perverting the facts of the Hazleton incident, and in representing the sheriff of Luzerne county and his deputies as "murderers," and the rioters who were killed while resisting the law as American freemen massacred because they were exercising their rights as freemen on the public highway: every such newspaper, whether its impulse be anarchistic, or political, or weakly sentimental, is engaged in deadly work.

No volley fired by the officers of the law into an ignorant or turbulent crowd, organized for law-breaking and refusing to disperse when commanded to do so in the name of the law, can be so deadly in its effect as this fusillade aimed by shameless or foolish journals at a sheriff who understood that his duty was to disperse the mob, not to allow the mob to disperse his posse and to bring the law into contempt.

This coddling of the mob, this systematic invention of facts to excite sympathy for the victims of their own misdeeds, this bestowal of the honors of martyrdom upon rioters killed in the act of riot, this inversion of the right relations between the representative of law and the man who defies the law, is a dangerous and murderous enterprise that will breed further mischief and cost more blood.

The shameless newspapers of sensation and anarchy will persist in glorifying riot, in making heroes of the mob, and in inciting the ignorant to violence, and thus luring them on to death. The foolish or weakly sentimental journals will continue to perform their part of the deadly work until a healthy public sentiment makes itself heard concerning their criminal participation.

DEADLY WORK.

(New York Sun).

The ignorance displayed by a portion of the press, of the fact that large bodies of men have no right to take possession of public highways for any purpose whatever, peaceable or warlike, is lamentable, or devilish, according as to whether it is real or feigned. It is, in either event, curious, from the fact that the ignoramuses all live in cities, where bodies not of 1000, but of ten men, would not be allowed to parade without police permits.

All this "marching" business is utterly lawless. It is law only for the reason that has been only too plainly apparent in the Hazleton affair—that it starts with private presumption of public rights and leads to disorder and collision with public authority. It has been declared lawless, and forbidden in operation by every court, State and Federal, to the attention of which it has been brought. If there had been an injunction out against it in Luzerne County there would have been no bloodshed.

The right to hold assemblage for the discussion of public affairs and the right to private control of public highways for the furtherance of private ends by the process of intimidation are as far apart as the poles. They are further, in fact, for one is existent and the other non-existent.

The basic trouble in the anthracite regions is not too much repression, but too little. In prohibiting all these assemblages General Gobin is now doing what should have been done in the first place, and what the coal mining States must generally do unless they wish to continue a condition of intermittent anarchy. Conductors of journals who foment that anarchy are a fitter mark for Sheriff Martin's deputies than the ignorant foreigners who fell at Lattimer.

Statement from Bank of England Regarding Bullion Reserve.

Insane Boston Man Arrested at Windsor Castle—Other Items.

London, Sept. 16.—At the semi-annual meeting of the Bank of England today the governor, Mr. Geo. Sendeman said: "You are probably aware of the proposals laid before the government in the summer by the United States and France, whereby this country might increase its use of silver, as a contribution to an international agreement which while not affecting our gold standard, might enable the mints of France and America to resume free coinage. Among the proposals was one asking the bank to hold the amount of silver permissible under the act of 1844, as against its notes."

The governor then read a letter, dated July 29, addressed to the chancellor of the exchequer, Sir Michael Hicks-Beach. It was as follows:

"Referring to our conversation, we beg to say the bank is prepared to carry out what is laid down as permissible in the bank charter; viz: To hold one-fifth of the bullion, held against its note issue, in silver, provided always that the French mint is again open to the free coinage of silver and that the prices at which silver is procurable and payable are satisfactory."

Replying to questions, the governor said the bank had no negotiations with the United States monetary commissioners.

Remarks of a German Paper.

Berlin, Sept. 16.—The National Zeitung referring to the intimation of the Times of Sept. 11, that the bank of England was prepared to hold in silver one-fifth of the bullion held against its note issue, says:

"The unfavorable reception to the announcement met with from all the organs of British trade leaves no room for doubt as to the opinion of the British commercial bodies and as to ultimate fate of the latest American attempt to secure for the silver mine owners with the aid of Europe's rise in silver as a reward for their support of the McKinley tariff policy and to keep the silverites in good humor."

British Troops Attacked.

Simla, Sept. 16.—The second brigade of the Mohmand punitive force, commanded by Gen. Jeffreys, reached the foot of the Rawat Pass Tuesday last. During the night the British troops were attacked by the enemy who kept up a heavy fire for six hours. Lieuts Tomkins and Bailey were killed. Lieut. Harrington was dangerously wounded, two privates were killed, five privates were wounded and 25 horses and mules were killed.

The Chess Players.

Berlin, Sept. 16.—The international chess tournament was resumed this morning at the Architekten Haus, 92 and 93 Wilhelmstrasse in this city, when the fourth round (eleventh round of the Berger system) was begun.

At 1 o'clock when an adjournment was taken, Burn had beaten Charousek, Schiffers defeated Walbrodt, Chigorin lost to Blackburne and Janowski was declared a winner against Bardeleben, who was retired.

Claims to Hail from Boston.

London, Sept. 16.—John Gardiner, claiming to hail from Boston, Mass., was arrested by the household police of Windsor Castle yesterday evening and later he was removed to an asylum for the insane. Gardiner claimed to be of royal blood and wanted the queen to send an army to the United States for the purpose of recovering property which he claims belongs to him in Boston.

The Sultan Accepts.

Vienna, Sept. 16.—The Neue Freie Presse says it is reported in official circles that the sultan of Turkey and the council of ministers of the Ottoman empire have accepted the conditions of peace with Greece as arranged by the ambassadors of the powers and that it is expected the preliminaries of the treaty will be signed on Friday next.

Forty Persons Drowned.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 16.—Two steamers, the Tsarevitch and the Malpikka, collided today on the river Volga, near Astrakhan. The former sank and while she was going down, her passengers, panic stricken, jumped into the river. Many of them succeeded in reaching the shore, but, forty persons were drowned.

Opening of Tufts College.

Medford, Mass., Sept. 16.—Tufts college opened this morning. The freshman class exceeds 100 in number, 30 of whom are women. In the class are several valedictorians of the various classes in the secondary schools from which they come. The class is also very strong in the athletic element and it is thought more than likely that Tufts will regain in times past, on the ball field, what it has won in the teaching force at the college there is little change. Mr. Orlando Lewis will start for Europe Saturday, and will pursue a year's study in Munich. It is not yet determined who will take his work. A number of new courses in philosophy will be given this year by Dr. Herbert Cushman.

RETURNING TO WORK.

Strike Practically Over in the Pittsburg District.

Estimated That the Strike Has Cost from Five to Seven Millions.

Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 16.—Nearly three months' idleness [illegible] and 18,000 coal miners in the district went to work today in accordance with the action taken at the convention authorizing the resumption of work in all mines operated under the provisions of the scale adopted at Columbus. The [illegible] of the 2,000 miners of the district will work before the end of the week.

A Peculiar Strike.

Philadelphia, Sept. 16.—According to the Record from Hazleton, a novel situation has arisen in the settlement between the Lehigh Coal and Navigation Co. and its mule drivers and stablemen. The men have signed a paper agreeing to work until 10,000 men are ready to resume operations of the mines, when the strike has been made the first one ever inaugurated in the history of the region.

The miners have been offered a 50 per cent. increase in their wages, at least so say the miners, in such cases they have signed an agreement promising not to work.

Want to Return at Once.

Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 16.—The action adopted by the miners in the districts in operation in the Pittsburg district requires miners to return to work at once, where the company refuses to take them back before screening, they will be paid at the mines of the Cleveland Gas Coal Co. Serious Uprising in Guatemala.

New York, Sept. 16.—A special to the Herald from Panama, Colombia, says: Guatemala now faces an uprising far more serious than the one of [illegible] months ago. The present rebellion is led by men of great wealth and influence and it is steadily gaining in strength each day.

Advices just received from Quezaltenango give the effect that 8,000 rebels attacked the city of Queza [illegible] on the morning of Sept. 13. The garrison [illegible] of less than 1,000 soldiers, and they fought valiantly.

The attack continued until [illegible] night, when the rebels, despite their superior numbers, were repulsed. They vigorously renewed the attack on the morning of the 14th, and the advices state that the latest report from the [illegible] is that the fighting still continues.

The Search Continued.

Galena, Kan., Sept. 16.—Work has continued since Tuesday at the abandoned mine shaft where a force of citizens are searching for the bodies of the two girls and the men supposed to have been murdered by the Stadtfeldecks and their mother, Mrs. Wilson, now on trial at Columbus for murder. Yesterday the workers were hedged in by a crowd ranging in numbers from 200 to 500. The community is greatly excited and it is generally declared that if the bodies shall be found the Stadtfeldecks will be taken from the county jail at Columbus and lynched. Cora Stadtfeldeck, wife of one of the accused, was in the crowd at the shaft all day. According to her testimony, she saw the bodies of the victims thrown into the shaft.

Favor Free Coinage.

Bloomington, Ills., Sept. 16.—The convention of the Illinois Federation of Labor has incorporated in its platform a resolution favoring among other things the free coinage of silver at 16 to 1.

Clark Hartshorn, of the Sebascodegan of the Harpswell line, who has been clerk of the boats for many years, came down to the landing at Orr's Island Monday on a team from the house where he takes his dinners. When he reached the landing he stated that he was assaulted by a Mr. Andrews, who knocked him down, kicked and beat him, breaking his nose and putting out his teeth. He was taken to his room in Portland and Tuesday he was improving, but he has a bad looking head. He claims that it was an unprovoked assault.

MOTHER AND BABE.

Nature is cruel and visits upon mother and babe alike the results of the mother's neglect of her own health. It is an untold tale—the mother dies in the agony of child-birth, and in a few short months the sweet babe follows her to the cemetery.

If women will only learn, and teach their daughters, the supreme importance of keeping the distinctly feminine organism in a perfectly vigorous and healthy condition, this ever-recurring tragedy will soon be a story of the past. Women who suffer from weakness and disease of these delicate organs should write to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., they will learn that in order to recover and maintain their health in this respect, it is not generally necessary to submit to the humiliating examinations and local applications insisted upon by physicians. In writing confidentially to Dr. Pierce, a woman places her case, without charge, in the hands of an eminent and skillful specialist, for thirty years chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute at Buffalo, N. Y., a staff of nearly a score of eminent practitioners. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures all weakness and disease of the organs dedicated to motherhood. Honest druggists recommend it instead of urging a substitute for a little extra profit.

"I had been a great sufferer from female diseases," writes Mrs. C. C. Clark, of New Rome, Ala. "I was confined to my bed three months. Six bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription completely cured me."

Dr. Pierce's Pellets. Good temper is largely a matter of good health, and good health is largely a matter of healthy bowels. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are constipation. They are safe, sure and mild. One little pellet is a gentle laxative, two a cathartic. They never gripe nor sicken like the drastic pills.

Through the efforts of Mr. Leslie Southworth, of South Brewer, a large number of young salmon and trout from the hatchery at Green Lake and Orland have been placed in Brewer or Hines' pond. Upon assurance of contributions from some of the fishermen in the vicinity and surrounding towns toward the expense and in expectation of the same from others who will be benefited by the stocking, Mr. Southworth has had the outlet screened so as to keep the fish in the pond, at an expense of about $30. He has received, so far only about $10 in subscriptions and would be pressed to hear from all who wish to contribute for the sake of improving the fishing in this well known stretch of water.

Speed in Torpedo Boats.

The development of speed in torpedo boats is a study of special interest, and the effect of the rapid increase of speed in this class of vessel is by no means confined to it, as a basis is thus formed for the introduction of many improvements, and consequent higher speed, in vessels of large size.

The question is often asked, "What is the probable increase in speed to be in the future and in what direction are we to look for improvements with a view to obtain it? One evident mode of increasing speed is by augmenting the size of the vessel and its machinery, as, if the proportion of weight allotted to the machinery is the same a greater speed will be obtained. To secure speed by this means, however, does not involve any special skill or anything in the nature of improvement. All that is necessary is simply to reproduce the same description of hull and engines, but of a larger size.

Greater skill is shown where an exceptional speed is obtained within small dimensions, and in this respect the results obtained by M. Normand of Havre in his latest achievements are specially creditable. No doubt material of greater strength than generally adopted would admit of lighter scantlings for the hulls. Probably the engines themselves may be driven at a higher number of revolutions and possibly improvements in water tube boilers may enable a reduction of weight to be secured without loss of efficiency. Aluminium may also be introduced as a substitute for heavier metals. It is in the saving of weight for power that advance may be looked for in the immediate future, for the shipbuilder can now see his way to obtain from 23 to 24 knots.—A. F. Yarrow in Cassler's Magazine.

The Eye In Old Age.

Dr. Chevallereau is one of the foremost eye specialists in Paris and the medical world. His opinion was therefore sought upon the effect upon eyesight in these times of omnivorous reading, which is such a characteristic of the age.

Speaking to a Herald correspondent, he said it was very difficult, in fact, almost impossible, to lay down any general rule on the matter. A free part malady of the eye, as old age comes on, is cataract. This is gradual, so much so that it is often advanced far before it is noticed.

It is not probable, however, that the eyesight will suddenly fail, unless there is some extraneous cause, such as hemorrhage of the retina, which sometimes is to be feared when the patient is advanced in age.

Dr. Abadie of 6 Rue Valney gave practically the same opinion, positively asserting that it was hardly likely that any one who had enjoyed normal eyesight would at an advanced age suffer from the sudden failure of his sight, unless it were caused by some shock or great emotion.—Paris Herald.

In 1636 an ordinance was passed in Albany that no person or persons should be permitted to work his trade or work until he had served as an apprentice to some burgher of the city for the term of four years unless they should be in other ways qualified.

CUBAN AFFAIRS.

People in Havana Without Meat and Milk Scarce.

Only the Sick in Hospitals Supplied with These Necessities.

Havana, via Key West, Sept. 13.—During the last two days the inhabitants of the city of Havana have been without meat. Milk also is very scarce. Only the sick in the hospitals are supplied regularly with either article.

In accordance with this arrangement, made when Victoria de Las Tunas was captured, Gen. Calixto Garcia has delivered up 70 prisoners at Holguin, 12 at Canto Embarcadero, 76 at Puerto Principe, and about 100 sick and wounded near Puerto Padre.

At daybreak on Monday, Col. Lacoste with a body of Spanish troops, fell suddenly upon the camp of the insurgent Gen. Castillo, at Santa Cristobal, province of Havana, simultaneously attacking the front and rear. The insurgents were overpowered and abandoned the position, losing 10 killed and eleven serious wounded.

The Spanish losses were six killed and 13 wounded.

The insurgent Gen. Perico Diaz, and leader Cubo have made a successful raid in Weyler's valley in southeast Pinar del Rio, destroying the tobacco plants and houses, macheting 10, wounding 15 and capturing 18, and lynching two merchants.

A body of local guerrillas near Manguaillo while out for a foraging, were surprised by the insurgents and in the engagement that followed lost eight killed and eleven seriously wounded.

It is reported that at Victoria de Las Tunas the insurgents have shot a Spanish officer for partially burning 500,000 cartridges and no two months' supply of provisions received for the Spanish garrison. About 300,000 cartridges were saved.

Authorities Showing Resentment.

New York, Sept. 16.—A special to the Herald from Havana, Cuba, says the Spanish authorities do not hesitate to show their resentment of the interest displayed by the wives of Americans in the case of Evangelina Cossio Cisneros.

They have not only absolutely shut off the Cuban maid from all communication with her friends, but they have thrown into the prison for lewd women in Santa Clara, five women who dared to prepare a most courteous appeal to Gen. Weyler for the release of Evangelina. These women are Senora Rosa Pana, the Senoritas Carmen and Nicolosa Gutierrez, Senora Micaela Ruiz and Senorita Consuela Avila.

THE YELLOW FEVER.

No Material Change in Situation in New Orleans.

New Orleans, Sept. 16.—The sanitary inspectors and experts of the board of health got to work at 7 o'clock this morning and proceeded with investigation of cases left over from yesterday.

Reports of additional suspected cases are slowly coming in. At 10 o'clock nothing had reached the board of health to warrant the fear that there had been any material change in the situation. There are no new cases this morning and nothing alarming has come from the homes of the patients who are ill.

At 11 o'clock today the board of health officially declared the suspicious case of fever on St. Andrews street, between Camptend Chestnut, to be yellow fever. It has been under observation for several days. The patient is a butcher. This makes a total of 19 cases up to date.

Business Dead at Jackson.

Jackson, Miss., Sept. 16.—No more people are leaving the city for two reasons—there are very few left here, and none of those can get out on account of the rigid quarantine, thrown around the town. Business is dead.

Reports to Surgeon General Wyman.

Washington, Sept. 16.—Surgeon General Wyman of the marine hospital service, has received a telegram from Drs. Hunter and Kiger of the Mississippi state board of health, giving information as to the state of yellow fever in that section. They say there is no sickness at Pelahatchie and that there is no necessity to send Dr. Guiteras there. They also stated that a cordon has been placed around Edwards and that cases in the country are being guarded, Dr. Purnell being in charge.

Large Stock Barn Destroyed.

Youngstown, O., Sept. 16.—A fire at noon destroyed the large stock barn of John A. Logan Jr. Eight finely bred horses and many elegant equipages were burned. Loss estimated at $75,000.

CAR HORSES HARD TO GET.

The Demand Is Now So Small That the Trade Neglects Them.

One of the most curious effects of the general replacing of horses by electricity and cable traction for drawing street cars is being experienced by one of the extensive car lines in this city which still uses horses. One would suppose that, since the only lines in the whole country which continue to use horses, now form but a very small percentage of those which used them five years ago, these lines would have a much wider range of choice and could get horses of a grade superior to the general run of those which used to be offered to them. Remarkable as it may seem, this is the exact opposite of the truth.

The New York city line referred to runs in direct competition with the cable lines of the upper west side, and its managers, who recently purchased it, determined as soon as they came into possession to place upon it a superior lot of horses, and in this way improve its running until mechanical propulsion could be introduced. Orders were sent out to buy the needed horses. Much to the surprise of the managers, it was discovered that there were almost no street car horses of any kind to be bought.

The explanation of this situation lies in the fact that since the demand for street car horses almost ceased the trade machinery by which they were gathered has fallen into disuse. A few years ago that street car horses were one of the most important features of the horse market. They were animals of a standard grade and of almost stable price, and every part of the country contributed its quota. The street car horse had to be big and able and sound of limb and wind, but it might be of any age. Few lasted long enough in the service to make the question of a few years more or less of any consequence. The demand was constant, and the price never varied in New York more than from about $125 to $150 each. Dealers could always count upon getting this price and getting it promptly, and as a consequence every horse which would answer the purpose was a safe investment at a little smaller price, and a clean profit of $10 a horse was regarded as a fair margin in handling them.

Horses of all sorts, which looked, the qualities of speed, bounty or youth, but possessed the other requirements, were quickly sorted out from the markets of the whole country, and every big dealer was always able to gather droves of car horses as fast as the companies needed them. The trolley has superseded the car horses, and car horses are no longer quoted as staples in the market. The companies which still use them are obliged to go out and search the marts and buy them one by one, instead of simply sending out an order for 100 or 1000 or 500 and getting them as readily as they would so many loads of hay or grain.—New York Sun.

Tait and Kingsley.

Dean Farrar tells a pleasant anecdote of the late Archbishop Tait and Charles Kingsley in an English magazine. The archbishop's instructions to his chaplain in regard to answering the letters of foolish correspondents were usually couched in the words, "Tell him he is an ass—but say so kindly." Kingsley confided to a friend his feelings about preaching in Westminster abbey, and said, with a slight stammer, "When-ever I walk up to the pulpit in the abbey I wish my-self d-d-dead, and when-ever I walk back I wish my-self, more d-d-d-dead."

THE VERSAILLES LYNCHING.

Victims of Mob Have Many Relatives and Friends

Who Have Determined Somebody Must Suffer for Their Deaths.

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 16.—An Ongood, Ind., special to the Times-Star says: There will be an awful reckoning for the slaughter of the five men in the Versailles riot. The relatives and friends who have determined that somebody must suffer for the wholesale lynching. Everybody here feels that more blood will be shed. There is a feeling that the mob acted hastily as to Levi and Jenkins. The only testimony against them was Hostetter's statement that they were involved in the Wooley robbery.

The jailer was removed today. Many witnesses were called but not one could identify any one connected with the mob. Circuit Judge New says that every possible effort will be made by the authorities to punish the mob participants.

A Versailles, Ind., special to the Times-Star says the people in Versailles are still dazed more than ever by the horror of the bloody work, at Tuesday night. No other topic is discussed, except speculations as to the probability of action being taken to arrest and punish the participants in the mob. All agree that the plan was deliberately laid.

It is said by witnesses that from the time the two signal rockets were sent up on the outskirts of the town until the work of the mob was completed and the men were gone home, not more than 15 minutes elapsed. It is also said that active participants in the lynching did not exceed 10 or 15, though the men were present as guards and helpers numbered 250.

It is generally conceded the organizers were Osgood men, though so far no one can be found who recognized any of them. The apprehension that further work is intended by the organization still continues and the luckless man who gets into the Versailles jail will have reason to dread the consequences.

This feeling may have a tendency to cause some of the suspected men to leave the country. Peter Hostetter, who gave the information to the sheriff about the burglary at Corydon, has been alarmed at threats of friends of the victims and has disappeared.

ALL OVER THE STATE.

Deputy Marshal Grover, of Augusta, was at work on a case Tuesday night, in which it is supposed that a watch has been stolen. On Monday night a young man invited a friend to occupy the same room and in the morning the first named young man claimed that some one had stolen a young lady's watch which he had in his possession. He accuses his friend but as that young man is not to be found the mystery of the disappearance of the watch remains unsolved.

A hearing has been in progress in Bath at which Judge Whitehouse has presided. The hearing was in regard to the Small Point property of the late Governor Bodwell. Fire Commissioner Edward Woodman, Percy H. Richardson and T. B. Haskell, of Portland, had reported in favor of a division of the property between Mr. B. Spinney, of Small Point, and the Bodwell heirs. The latter objected to the decision and the hearing resulted. Judge Whitehouse heard the evidence and rendered a decision, sustaining the commissioners. It is believed that this will settle the case.

Edward F. O'Brien, 17 years of age, and Myrtle Chapman, 16 years of age, both pupils of High O'Brien grammar school on Dudley street, Boston, until the beginning of the summer vacation, are thought to have been married recently at Kent, Ohio. Edward is the grandson of Hon. Hill O'Brien, of Thomaston, Me., and his mother, who lives at No. 8 Sargent street, Dorchester, Mass., has supposed that he was spending his vacation at his grandfather's home. It is said, however, that last Wednesday he left Rockland with $100 which he borrowed from his grandfather and with the proceeds of the sale of his bicycle started on his journey for Kent, O. It is thought that Myrtle Chapman knew he was coming—in fact that they had been corresponding all summer. Young O'Brien's mother is taking energetic steps to find her boy and prevent the marriage.

At 3 o'clock Wednesday morning Officer Martin, of Biddeford, was accosted by a man on Elm street, who said a man had broken into his house at Little Canada and he had him confined there. He wanted the officer to arrest him. The man was Thomas McConnell, a stone cutter at Day's Siding. McConnell had only returned yesterday morning from Alfred jail where he served a sentence for intoxication. He came down the track and leaving his bundle and tools at the side of the railroad he proceeded down into Little Canada. He then walked into the first house he came to and ate everything which was on the table before he was discovered. He paid a fine in court amounting to $7.75.

One hundred years ago the Constitution, "Old Ironsides," was launched at Boston, where it is now proposed to take her from Portsmouth. According to reports the Constitution's three masts were cut in the town of Malta, now Windsor, on the north side of the Augusta road, between Cooper's Mills and Bryant's Corner. Thomas Cooper, of Newcastle, and one Gray cut the trees, swamped the road to Puddle dock in Alna in the winter of 1796-97 and hauled them into Sheepscot river and in the spring took them to Wiscasset, where the government agents yoked them at both ends with pieces of white oak, 5x8, slipped through mortices in the trees and then towed them to Boston.

Bath Independent: A young Bath woman is outwardly oppressed with a sense of drowsiness and some one always has to be with her whose she is away from home to keep her awake, as she is liable to sit down anywhere and go to sleep. It is a strange case and a great puzzle to her physician. Her parents have been approached by dime museum people to secure her for a curiosity. We know of several young men of the city who have an inordinate capacity for sleep and are regarded on the point by their families as curiosities. Possibly there may be a new industry afloat that is preying upon those for whom it has an affinity. We have long suspected that there was some powerful reason behind the apathetic sluggishness of certain members of our population and perhaps this theory of a microbe of sleep explains it.

A few years ago a prominent Auburn man was visited by a boy scarcely out of his teens, who said that he was a carpenter by trade and had come to Maine from Illinois with the hope of obtaining work. He had turned up in the place city with only two cents in his pocket and with that money he was going to purchase a stamp and write to his mother. The Auburn man believed the boy and gave him some carpenter tools and in many other ways aided him. The young man appreciated the favor and worked diligently. The other day a letter was received in Auburn from a city in Illinois in which the boy, now a man, again thanked his benefactor for his aid. He also stated that the outlook gradually grew brighter and that he was now employed as foreman on a large building job.

The wave of prosperity has reached Skowhegan and its influence is felt in all branches of business. The Coburn woolen mills have added a night crew to the large number of hands employed at the mills, and are hiring help as fast as it can be obtained. Business at the shoe factory is steadily improving and it is thought that before long the plant will be running at its full capacity. The two pulp mills also feel the influence and the products of the mills are assuming larger proportions. The Skowhegan Jersey creamery is now placing 700 pounds of creamery butter upon the market daily, with the prospect of a steady advance in the future. The saw mill, Bailey's oil cloth shops, the broom factory, sash and blind factories and Mitchell's novelty mill are all doing a good business. The selectmen have a crew at work laying and repairing sidewalks about town, and another crew laying a sewer on North avenue. Several hundred feet of sewerage will be laid before the snow flies. The Skowhegan Electric Light Company is erecting a power house on its newly purchased lot on the island, which when completed will enable the company to add to its already large business. Skowhegan Grange is erecting a large hall on Pleasant street, the walls being already up. In addition to all this several dwelling houses have been erected about town during the past summer, while others have undergone extensive repairs and improvements. The new management of the Skowhegan and Norridgewock electric railroad has erected a large building at the Plains and already have the lumber on the ground for the erection of a large dance hall. An electric road from Skowhegan to Canaan and Athens is being talked of and one may be built in the spring.

One of the Biddeford assessors who was curious as to the amount of taxes paid by French speaking residents of that city, has been over the tax books and finds it to be $7,460.75, or a tax on a valuation of $275,000. The total tax this year is $195,000, of which the large corporations pay about one-half.

Said a bright Bath girl at a recent party, "Humph! I'm never going to be married. I can earn as much more money than most men earn in a year"—and she can, too, say her friends. So that's the esteem in which the dear girl holds men and family? Probably there are some men who would not want her while holding such views.

A curiosity has been brought to light in East Friendship, a man who has kept a diary since January 1, 1879, and never missed a day.

Many Bath sportsmen who enjoy hunting on Merry meeting Bay, are greatly indignant, on account of persons who call themselves sportsmen disregarding the laws made at the last legislature regarding night shooting. In past years this unsportsman-like amusement has been carried on to a large extent, and as a result Bath almrods who arose early to visit the lily round little sport. Some Bath gunners are now doing a little detective work and will endeavor to bring all offenders under the arm of the law. The fact that there is a fine of $25 for night shooting and $50 when a "jack" light is used, causes those who attempt this kind of shooting, to be extremely cautious. As one of the crack shots said, "This night shooting is the most foolish sport imaginable, as the hunters are often unable to find the birds after they are shot and ruins good day shooting for themselves and many others."

Eugene Normandy, who has clerked Saturday nights and at other times at Fairbank's shoe store in Biddeford, and Daniel Kelley, who lives on Summer street, were arrested at Boston Wednesday morning by the Boston police on complaint of Marshal Harmon, for the larceny of $43 from the shoe store. Officer Hansen left on the afternoon train for Boston and will bring them down. The money was taken Saturday night but the loss was not discovered until Tuesday. Normandy, who has a bad record, is some way or another got a key to the door of the shoe store. Saturday night he went in after the clerks had gone home, and knowing the combination of the safe had very little trouble in getting at the money box. There was $67 in all which was to be banked Monday morning, and of this the manager found $43 missing. Marshal Harmon was notified and he found that Normandy and Kelley had gone to Boston. Kelley told his sister that he was going to peddle bills for Fairbanks out through the country and would not be back for a few days. A description of the boys was sent on to Boston and they were located and locked up.

The first shipment of finished goods was made from the new shoe factory at Gardiner on Tuesday. About 70 people are now employed in the factory and additions are made as fast as those already on get learned. Supt. Cook says he would like to have a good many more at work but he can only put them on as fast as the work can be properly done. All the foremen are now in the shop and each department is at work. They are finishing 25 dozen a day and cutting 60 dozen. The have orders for more than they can do and the work will be pushed as fast as possible.

Maj. Burrage, of Portland, has received by express from Belton Lodge, F. & A. M., of Belton, Miss., the sword captured with him at Petersburg, Va., Nov. 1, 1864. Since the war Maj. Burrage has been in correspondence with a number of parties in the South concerning the sword, and he has finally recovered it through the efforts of Belton Lodge of Masons, to whom it was given to be used as a tyler's sword by Mr. W. A. Poole, who received it from Lieut. Teague, of the Confederate army, the officer who captured it from Maj. Burrage. The Major values the sword very highly for its associations during the war.

Facts which have come to light at Biddeford within the past day or two, in relation to the transactions of certain dealers in alleged patent rights, seems to indicate a strong probability of crookedness on the part of somebody. A man named B. O. Hall, hailing from New Hampshire, who claims to own a certain secret French process of decorating painting, has been in the vicinity for several weeks engaged in selling "rights" to Maine territory for parties to carry on the business according to his alleged secret process, and he is reported to have made several profitable sales, including nearly the entire County. Hall did not claim to own a patent of his "process," only the secret of the same, but this secret he professed to impart for a consideration, giving parties the exclusive right to use it within a certain limit. A day or two ago, when he had virtually closed up business here and was about to leave for pastures new, another gentleman appeared on the scene, selling territory for parties to carry on the business of decorating painting, which those who have seen his samples, declare is identical with the alleged secret process imparted by Hall. Gentleman number two now goes gentleman number one one better, also by claiming that he not only has the alleged "secret process" but also has a legal patent right to use and sell the same, and he, too, has done a thriving business in selling Maine territory to Old Orchard parties. Mr. A. E. Smith living at Old Orchard has invested in Maine territory with Mr. Hall, and upon comparing notes with some of his neighbors learned the rather startling truth that the Maine county which he foolishly supposed he had the exclusive right to forage in with his new process, had already been sold to other parties by gentleman number two. Naturally feeling that something was wrong Tuesday he caused the arrest of Hall on a charge of obtaining his (Smith's) money for something that he, Hall, had no right to sell.

He lives on Brackett street, in Portland. He is a very estimable young man, in every way, and she is more than estimable—in his opinion—so, with the idea of wheeling his way into her heart, he moved and hoarded his shekels and purchased a fine tandem. But, the best laid plans of mice and men gang aft agley. They had ridden some nine miles and after slowly and laboriously pedaling to the top of a long hill he, after mopping the dripping brow, gasped out convulsively: "M—M—May, you come—out, p—p—put your feet on the c—c—coasters—now." "Why," said his companion, "I've had them on over since we started." But he said nothing but cast his legs firmly, and she has wondered since then why he has not called on Sunday evenings.

A old woman slowly into a West End grocery store in Portland recently, on a little marketing trip. "I want two dozen eggs," she said to the grocer, and they must all be laid by black hens." "Madam, it would give me great pleasure to serve you but I must confess that you have got the best of me. I can't tell eggs laid by black hens from any other kind." "I can mighty quick," said she, "if you'll let you pick them out." The woman counted two dozen eggs into her basket and then the grocer remarked suggestively, "Well, madam, it seems as if the black hens laid all the big eggs." "Yes, that's the way you tell 'em," she replied.

There are many interesting vessels that come to this port, but a little pinkey that makes occasional calls at Widgery's wharf is an exceptional of motion, at any, says the Portland Express. It for nothing more than her age the hulk Ann ought to receive recognition. She was built at Gloucester in 1816 and the same keel that was originally laid still does duty. The vessel has charged hands many times and has been changed over to conform to the ideas of its owners from time to time. Shipping Commissioner Tolman owned the pinkey at one time, with his partner, when he was engaged on the fishing business at Deer Isle. He controlled her movements for 16 years and sent her out to the Grand Banks fishing, on mackerel cruises to Boston as a freighter, and finally made her a wreck by putting in a lobster well and putting her into commission as a lobster smack. She was a good sea boat and through her long and varied career has served her masters faithfully. Her present owner uses her as a coaster now, between Mt. Desert Ferry and coast portations far as Portland. The name pinkey originated from the high narrow stern, called a pinked stern. They are one of the safest sea boats afloat, but very few of them are seen now-a-days.

Years before rails were laid for the Bath street railway came rumors that an electric road would soon run between Bath and Brunswick, connecting with summer resorts in the vicinity. Interest in the matter was recently renewed by the announcement that the management of the Lewiston and Auburn electric road would immediately commence a survey of the various routes over which they intended to extend additions including the proposed line from Lewiston, through Lisbon, Topsham, Brunswick and Bath. In reference to the line between Bath and Brunswick, a Bath Times reporter interviewed Galen C. Moses, who is among those interested in the scheme. Said Mr. Moses, "There is no foundation to the report that work will begin this fall on an electric road between Brunswick and Bath. Work will very likely begin on the road in the spring. So far nothing has been decided regarding the route between Bath and Brunswick but we will probably go over the highways this fall for the purpose. General Manager Gerald, of the Lewiston and Auburn street railway, said the other day, "I should think it doubtful if we build much railroad this fall but we intend to get at it early in the spring. We may make a few miles extension in Lewiston and Auburn but it will, not be much. I do not approve of starting on extensive jobs late in the fall. It is better to start in the spring, then you have the summer before you."

The most extensive piece of work upon which the Hallowell Granite Company has been engaged is that of the Albany Capitol building, the original contract to furnish granite for repairs and additions of which was signed twenty-five years ago. This old contract expires in March, 1898, but will in all probability be renewed, as additions and improvements on the building are all still in prog

The Century

IN 1897.

ALL NEW FEATURES.

The Century will continue to be in every respect the leading American magazine, its table contents including each month the best in literature and art. The present interest in American history makes especially timely A Great Novel of the American Revolution, its leading serial feature for 1897, and the masterpiece of its author, Dr. S. Weir-Mitchell. The story, "Hugh Wynne, Free Quaker," purports to be the autobiography of its hero, an officer on Washington's staff. Social life in Philadelphia at the time of the Revolution is most interestingly depicted, and the characters include Washington, Franklin, Lafayette, and others well known in history. It is safe to say that the lovers of this great romance will obtain from a clever idea of the people who were foremost in Revolutionary days, and of the social life of the times, than can be had from any other single source. The work is not only historically accurate, but is a most interesting story of love and war. The first chapters are in the November number. Howard Pyle will illustrate it.

Campaigning With Grant, by General Horace Porter, is the title of a series of articles which has been in preparation for many years. General Porter was an aide-de-camp on General Grant's staff and a close friend of his chief, and the diary which he kept through the war is the basis of the present articles, which are striking pen-pictures of campaign life and events. They will be fully illustrated. The first one is in the November Century.

A new novel by Marion Crawford, author of "Mr. Isaacs," "Saracinesca," "Casa Braccio," etc., entitled, "A Roman of Yesterday," a story of Colorado life in Europe, with American characters, goes in November. The first of a series of frontispieces, made by the famous wood-engraver, Cole, of the old English masters also is in this issue. New features will be announced from time to time.

LIVER CLOGGING.

WHEN YOUR STOMACH CLOGS YOUR LIVER SEE TO YOUR DIGESTION.

Not one person in a thousand knows that the cause of biliousness is the clogging of the liver by the poisons of indigestion. Nor that the only proper cure for it is a tonic to aid the stomach. But modern medicine declares the truth of it. And the Shakers have proved it by the wonderful success of their Shaker Digestive Cordial.

One of the most important uses of the liver is to arrest and destroy all poisons which try to find their way into the blood. When it's clogged, it can't do this.

Undigested food ferments and putrefies in the stomach, and the poisons of putrefaction clog and paralyze the liver, after which they find their way into the blood.

Here is the true explanation of all the distressing disorders and complications caused by indigestion.

Shaker Digestive Cordial is the only tonic cordial which aids the stomach in a natural way to digest its food. By this means, it cures indigestion, restores the liver, and frees the body from poison and disease.

Headache, dizziness, neuralgia, mental depression, weakness, bad taste, fever, Catarrhal, constipation, loss of appetite, anæmia, rheumatism, and many other disorders are relieved and cured by Shaker Digestive Cordial.

At druggists. Ten cents for a trial bottle.

On account of the several subscription placards which have been placed upon the building of St. Mary's Parochial School and the threats of boycotting by applying the torch, all of which tend to anarchy, riot, and perhaps bloodshed, now I, Flavius O. The sword has passed through many hands since then. Lieut. Teague, who took Major Burrage prisoner, carried it all through the rest of the war. Later Teague fell in debt and the sword came into possession of Capt. N. A. Poole, of Co. K, North Carolina troops, who, in turn, gave it to a Masonic lodge at Belton, Mo. Major Burrage traced it to this place and then wrote asking for the sword which he received by express this week. Major Burrage was captured while approaching the Confederate lines for the exchange of papers. The officers, however, believed he had other designs and took him prisoner. He was subsequently released in exchange for Roger A. Pryor.

Taking Thought for the Morrow.

The duty we owe our children is not confined to a good bringing up, and the bequeathing to them of an honorable name. We owe them a sturdy constitution. It is a crime to start a child in life with inherited weakness; but most of us, acting all around the evidence of disregard of this duty in others, are inclined to forget the importance of it. In living for our children, we live for ourselves also, and in guarding against the development of disease we insure a rugged old age for ourselves and the blessings of our children. Our lives are trying to nervous strength, and most people see themselves losing ground without being able to secure sufficient help. Nature has provided the remedies that will keep you well and strong, but only a great and painstaking specialist can tell you what they are and just which ones you need. To those who feel their health slipping away, and who have been unable to secure relief, the world-famous physician, Dr. Greene, discoverer of the great Nervura, offers consultation free of all charge. His office is at 34 Temple Place, Boston, Mass., and you may call on him there or write, describing your case, and there will be absolutely no charge for his experienced advice. He will know instantly the remedies required to cure you. Consult him at once.

Quite a number of Bangor ladies went on the excursion to Bar Harbor on Thursday.

Decision in Law.

The following decision in law has been received by Charles F. Sweet, Esq., clerk for the Eastern Law District:

Penobscot, ss. Agawam National bank vs. Charles P. Palmer et al. Trustees of Strout, J. This is an action against the defendant as maker of four promissory notes payable to the order of the Bangor Pulp and Paper company and endorsed to the plaintiff, and as endorser of three promissory notes made by the Bangor Pulp and Paper company to defendant, and by him endorsed to plaintiff, all being duly protested. The defense is that Palmer signed and endorsed the notes without consideration and for the accommodation of plaintiff. The evidence shows that all the notes were regularly discounted by the plaintiff bank, and the proceeds placed to the credit of the Pulp & Paper company, and by it drawn out and used. This fact negatives the defense that the notes were for the accommodation of the plaintiff. If defendant became a party to the notes for the accommodation of anyone it was for the Pulp & Paper company and not for the plaintiff.

Judgment for the plaintiff for amount of all the notes in suit.

BREACH OF PROMISE.

Celebrated Suit of Perkins vs. Williams Won by Plaintiff.

For some time legal and social circles have been stirred to their foundations by the famous breach of promise suit of Perkins vs. Williams. It went to the jury last night after a bitterly fought contest in which the gushing young widow won.

It was a mock trial and Y. M. C. A. Hall was a court room for the time being. It contained a very good sized audience which wept with the widow as her wrongs were pathetically exposed and laughed at the humorous testimony which was wrung from the witnesses by the unscrupulous barristers who spared nobody and made every point tell. The action at law was under the very successful management of Col. A. V. Newton, of Worcester, Mass., who gives these entertainments all over the country.

Public opinion was with the widow and the verdict for $3,75, the full amount claimed, was a popular one.

The court had the following cast of characters: Judge, Col. J. W. Porter; clerk, J. Harry Freese; plaintiff, Miss Agnes Peresen; defendant, R. A. Jordan; plaintiff's attorney, Col. A. V. Newton, Worcester, Mass.; defendant's attorney, Charles J. Hutchings, Esq.; court officer, Chief of Police L. W. Gilman; witnesses, Dr. D. A. Robinson, James E. Dunning, Miss Lou Glass and Miss Flora E. Weed; jurors, C. S. Pearl, Thomas White, John M. Oak, L. C. Tyler, E. L. Braun, J. A. Boardman, L. C. Witham, A. B. Taylor, J. L. Parker, J. G. Blake, G. W. E. Barrows and A. C. Sawyer.

Such was the composition of the jury but when their names were called the following answered: Grover Cleveland, Benjamin Harrison, George F. Hoar, William McKinley, Thomas B. Reed, Chauncey M. Depew, David B. Hill, Levi P. Morton, John L. Sullivan, Rev. T. De Witt Talmage, Gen. Coxey and Thomas C. Platt.

Attorney Newton in opening the case for the plaintiff stated that the action was for breach of promise of marriage by the defendant at the boarding house kept by the plaintiff, and laid great stress upon the great wrong which had been done her and which had caused her such suffering that her weight had been reduced from 395 pounds to her present frail condition.

The artful address made a great impression upon the jury and it was plain to be seen that the verdict would be for the full $3.75 asked for.

The plaintiff, Miss Jerusha Rugg Perkins, was the first witness. She testified to the courtship of the defendant and the flight of the defendant when she announced the engagement.

The plaintiff's testimony was corroborated by other witnesses and a strong case was made out for the widow.

Lewis Lively Williams, the defendant, flatly contradicted the testimony of the previous witnesses but admitted that he had sat up with the widow every other night to keep her in good humor so that on other evenings he might be with the widow's niece.

After an eloquent argument by each of the counsel Judge Porter gave his charge to the jury. He said that for some reason which had never been explained jurors were always addressed as gentlemen so he would do so on that occasion. He said they had been chosen as jurors owing to their lack of intelligence and because each of them had figured as defendant in just such an action.

He said that jurors were not to know any lady or anything should not be able to read and need not possess any mental or moral qualities. A glance at their countenances showed that they were well qualified to serve on the jury. After more "roast" of this kind the judge returned to the case and gave a learned dissertation on the law. He instructed the jurors that they should not allow their convictions to interfere with their sympathies. A juror had no right to convictions.

The jury retired, but soon returned with a verdict of $3.75 for the plaintiff, 63 of which was to go to the jury and 25 cents to the judge. It was very evident that the verdict was very satisfactory to the jury, the judge and the plaintiff and the audience also seemed pleased, although it would probably have been more so had it received a portion of the amount of the verdict.

The entire trial was productive of a great deal of mirth provoking fun, as one sally of wit followed another in rapid succession and the evening was an enjoyable one to all who were in attendance.

AMUSEMENTS.

Nellie McHenry.

Nellie McHenry and a competent support presented "A Night in New York" at the Opera House last night before a good sized audience. The play was given here last season and is familiar to Bangor theatre-goers, who have found considerable in it with which to pass a pleasant evening.

The star is the same jolly and lively comedienne as in previous seasons and makes the most of the roles which she assumes. Mr. Webster, Mr. Brown and the others gave a good account of themselves and the handsome costumes and appropriate stage settings added their share to the effect of the play.

Jamon O'Neill.

James O'Neill, universally acknowledged to be one of the best of all romantic actors, will appear at the Opera House tonight in a masterly romantic play entitled, "The Dead Heart." Mr. O'Neill will impersonate the hero "Robert Landry." To the proper interpretation of this character Mr. O'Neill will bring to bear his rare powers of human sympathy, tragic touches and sympathetic sentiment, with which he has charmed men and women alike all over this broad land during the last fifteen years. "Robert Landry" is a young sculptor who voluntarily seeks his death on the guillotine in order to save the life of a young man, whose mother "Landry" loved in his youth. During the progress of the play all the human elements are introduced which excite the emotions of an audience, such as intrigue and revenge, craftiness and heroism and love versus hate, with love in all form of self-sacrifice occupying a triumphant climax in the final scene.

The play affords a correct illustration of the life in France during the period of the great revolution, and the management has taken great pains in furnishing elaborate settings and costumes to give a proper frame to the picture. The services of John A. Thompson, of Boston, and Maurice Hermann, of New York, have been employed in looking after the scenic embellishments. Mr. O'Neill accompanied by his strong company on Saturday evening will present the powerful tragedy "Virginius."

Notes.

Mr. John L. Wooderson goes with Stuart Robson this season.

Miss Jessie Couthoui is a guest at the Franconia Inn, Franconia, N. H. About Sept. 20 she commences her work in vaudeville.

Mr. George Wilson, the clever minstrel star who created such a furore with Primrose & West's minstrels, will put out for the season of 1898-9 a minstrel company of 50 high class artists. The season will open Aug. 23, 1897.

BANQUET AND MUSTER-IN.

Meeting of Hannibal Hamlin Post—Memorial Resolutions.

Hannibal Hamlin Post 105, G. A. R., met last evening for the first time since vacation, at which time there was a banquet and muster-in. The banquet was spread at 6.30 o'clock and this was followed by other exercises of a different nature. Hon. R. C. Penney was mastered in. Chairman Fenno of the committee on memorial resolutions on the death of Comrades Parker and Sanger, reported as follows, the same being unanimously adopted:

In Memoriam.

Comrades: It is a customary and laudable usage of our organization, to take notice, and make mention of the death of comrades with whom we have associated in the work and teachings of our Order.

We do this, not in the vain attempt to affect him, whose earthly comradeship has thus forever ceased, but that we may publicly recognize our loss, and bear our willing testimony to his honorable and patriotic character of the deceased.

Since last we met our Supreme Commander, in infinite wisdom, has drafted from our ranks, and promoted to higher service, two of our worthy and highly esteemed comrades; Albert H. Parker and Eugene F. Sanger.

Comrade Parker was born in Bangor, and lived and moved amongst us during his lifetime, ever enjoying the respect and confidence of his fellow citizens. He was known as an intelligent and conscientious man, faithful in every relation of life and fulfilling his every duty—public and private, with ability and fidelity. Comrade Parker was a loyal soldier of the Grand Army of the Republic. He promptly obeyed the call of his country, enlisted in its defence, and did a soldier's duty. While it was not his fortune to be called to the perilous front, in the momentous struggle, yet his well known vigorous, and forceful character assures us, that to whatever duty he might have been called in the great conflict, whether in camp, or on the battlefield—his country and its flag would have found in him a patriotic—faithful—determined defender.

Comrade Sanger enlisted early and served continuously as a surgeon, and in charge of hospitals, with distinguished courage and ability, from the commencement to the close of the Civil War, gaining for himself great professional reputation. His conspicuously successful services, received from the government prompt and honorable recognition, with rapid and well deserved promotion to the highest rank in his department of the service.

Comrade Sanger seemed as though born to and for his profession with a positive genius for promptly meeting its great requirements, and overcoming its varied difficulties. In considering Comrade Sanger's social and professional life, we find it marked by great independence of thought, determined convictions, intense earnestness, great self reliance, quick insight and great resolutiveness of purpose, combined with rapid and fixed decisions in all matters, professional or otherwise, to which he gave his attention.

While these qualities of mind brought to our comrade great distinction in his profession, they also brought him fervid enemies and warm friends.

Those who knew our late friend and comrade best, loved him best. What better tribute to personal character could be desired? Perfection in humanity has never as yet, been attained. The wisest and best of men have erred, yet have grandly lived, and nobly served their fellow men.

We resign our comrades to the silence of the grave. The golden chain of fraternal friendship has been broken. Our comrades have been summoned to join the innumerable host. The last and offices of respect and affection have been rendered. Comrades, let us heed the lesson of death; close up our ranks and re-unite the broken chain, that we may the better be sustained and strengthened in our mutual ties of Fraternity, Charity and Loyalty.

In view of our great loss, with its eloquent but silent reminder, your committee would propose the following resolution, and would recommend that this report, with the resolution, be spread upon the records of the post, and that a copy thereof, verified by the adjutant, be transmitted to the families of our deceased comrades.

Hannibal Hamlin Post, G. A. R. No. 105.
Bangor, September 16, 1897.

Resolved, That Hannibal Hamlin Post tenders to the families of our deceased comrades, Albert H. Parker and Eugene F. Sanger, assurance of great personal regard for the departed; and while we mourn our loss, and bow to the dispensation, we gladly recognize that our comrades were loyal, patriotic members of the Grand Army of the Republic; ever faithful to their country and its flag, and sincerely devoted to the noble principles of our beloved Order. All is well with them—we will cherish their memories.

Jer. Fenno,
